👉 Trump's renewed interest in Pakistan has recalibrating India China ties

President Trump's meeting with Pakistan's army chief has strained U.S.-India ties, with New Delhi viewing it as a dismissal of its security concerns following recent cross-border violence. The move stalled trade talks and prompted India to cautiously re-engage with China as a strategic hedge. It reflects India's growing unease with Trump's unpredictable diplomacy and raises concerns over deeper U.S.-Pakistan military ties that could disrupt regional stability.

👉 Israeli fire kills 67 people seeking aid in Gaza, medics say, as hunger worsens

The killing of at least 67 Palestinians waiting for aid in northern Gaza highlights the deepening humanitarian crisis and raises serious concerns about Israel's conduct. As starvation spreads and civilian casualties rise, tensions threaten to derail ongoing ceasefire talks in Doha. Israel's continued military pressure, including new evacuation orders in Deir al-Balah, suggests an expansion of operations that could worsen the crisis. Without urgent aid access and a truce, Gaza faces the risk of mass starvation and further collapse.

👉 Israeli military attacks Houthi targets in Yemen's Hodeidah port

Israel's strike on Houthi targets in Yemen's Hodeidah port signals an expanded front in its conflict with Iran-backed groups. Aimed at deterring Houthi attacks on Israeli interests and maritime routes, the move risks escalating tensions in the Red Sea and deepening regional instability. It also sends a message to Tehran, but may trigger further Houthi retaliation and complicate ceasefire efforts in Yemen and Gaza.
