Yemen's Houthis say prime minister of rebel-controlled government killed in Israeli airstrike

Israel's airstrike killed Houthi Prime Minister Ahmed al-Rahawi and senior officials in Sanaa, targeting the leadership in a rare gathering. The Houthis vowed revenge, likely escalating missile attacks on Israel and Red Sea shipping. The strike may create a temporary leadership gap but could also strengthen hardline factions, fueling a cycle of retaliation and regional instability.

Prominent Ukrainian politician shot dead in 'carefully planned attack'

The assassination of Ukrainian lawmaker Andriy Parubiy in Lviv was a carefully planned political attack, likely aimed at intimidating pro-European and nationalist forces. His long-standing role in Ukraine's security and democratic movements makes the killing highly symbolic. In the short term, it may trigger national outrage and tighter security, while in the long term it risks deepening political polarization and destabilizing Ukraine amid ongoing conflict.

Xi and Modi talk friendship in a 'chaotic' world as Trump's tariffs bite

Chinese President Xi Jinping met Indian Prime Minister Narendra Modi to strengthen friendship and cooperation between the world's two most populous nations, amid global challenges including US tariffs and Western scrutiny over ties with Russia. The meeting signaled easing tensions along the border and economic collaboration, but longstanding trust issues remain, making the relationship relatively stable yet limited in immediate impact.
