Russia is analysing US documents on Ukraine peace deal, Kremlin says

The Kremlin said it is analysing U.S. documents related to ending the war in Ukraine that were delivered to Moscow by special envoy Kirill Dmitriev. Reuters reported Kremlin spokesman Dmitry Peskov made the comment on Dec. 25, indicating the proposals are under review rather than accepted or rejected. The brief item underscored ongoing behind-the-scenes diplomacy and the cautious, process-driven tone Moscow has taken publicly. No timetable or specific terms were detailed in the Reuters report.

China says it hopes firms seek lawful, balanced solutions over TikTok deal

China's commerce ministry said it hopes companies involved in the handover of TikTok's U.S. operations reach a solution that complies with Chinese laws and balances all parties' interests. Reuters reported the comments after ByteDance signed binding agreements to hand control of TikTok's U.S. business to a group of investors including Oracle—moves aimed at avoiding a U.S. ban and ending years of uncertainty. Beijing's statement signaled regulatory sensitivity around cross-border tech transfers and the importance it places on legal process and national rules.

Israeli military says it killed a member of Iran's Quds Force in Lebanon

Israel's military said it killed a member of Iran's Quds Force in Lebanon, identifying him as Hussein Mahmoud Marshad al-Jawhari, described as a key operative in Unit 840 involved in planning attacks from Syria and Lebanon. Reuters reported Israel said he was assassinated near Ansariyeh, without providing further operational details. The report noted the wider context of near-daily Israeli strikes in Lebanon and lingering tensions after a brief Israel-Iran war earlier in 2025, with no immediate comment from Iran or Lebanon.
