Iran's supreme leader absent as senior officials attend ayatollah's funeral

Mojtaba Khamenei was absent from the funeral of his father, Ayatollah Ali Khamenei, while senior Iranian officials and thousands of mourners gathered in Tehran. His absence fueled speculation about his condition following rumors that he was injured in US-Israel air strikes. President Masoud Pezeshkian and Revolutionary Guards chief Ahmad Vahidi attended the ceremony, which forms part of wider funeral proceedings across Iran and Iraq. The events come amid a fragile ceasefire with Israel, strict security measures, anti-US and anti-Israel chants, and preparations for Khamenei's burial in Mashhad later in the week.

Putin and Trump held 'businesslike' 90-minute July 4 call, Moscow says

Russian President Vladimir Putin and US President Donald Trump held a nearly 90-minute July 4 call described by Moscow as businesslike and constructive. Russia said Trump again offered to help end the Ukraine war, while Putin argued for a political settlement and claimed Russian forces were advancing. The call came before a NATO summit in Turkey and amid intensified fighting in Donetsk, where Russia claimed control of Kostyantynivka, a claim Ukraine rejected as disinformation. Zelensky also spoke with Trump, citing a real chance to end the war. Ukraine has meanwhile expanded strikes on Russian oil, fuel and power infrastructure.

Trump gives campaign-style July 4 speech on National Mall for U.S. 250th anniversary

Donald Trump marked the United States' 250th anniversary with a July 4 speech on the National Mall that blended patriotic messaging with campaign-style politics. After a nearly two-hour weather delay, he praised American achievements while calling for tighter voting rules, warning against communism, and highlighting his administration's record. The event faced record heat, thunderstorms, evacuations, heavy security, and criticism over partisanship. A white nationalist group also appeared in Washington, though police reported no violence. Freedom 250 celebrations have drawn mixed reactions, with several Democratic-led states and performers distancing themselves from the events.
